Tiffany Chalk [tiffanychalkevents] is a sought after event planner and event design specialist. Dedicated to her craft, Tiffany stays abreast of what she calls "T3"™ (the latest techniques, technology and talent boosters), by learning from the best in her industry; Preston Bailey and Stacie Francombe. Tiffany made the decision to follow her passion of event planning in 2007. Tiffany has become one of the Tri-State area's most sought-after event planners and speaker, earning the awards, TV appearances and accolades across the region. Tiffany sets herself apart from her contemporaries with her distinctive ability to go beyond her clients' expectations without compromising style and sophistication, even with the most modest of budgets. Her savvy business acumen proves to be an asset in vendor contract negotiations and, her charismatic demeanor ensures that her clients have an enjoyable experience throughout each step of the planning process. In addition to being an entrepreneur, Tiffany is a loving wife, mother and fashionista with a penchant for designer handbags. She is currently an instructor at Delaware Technical Community College where she teaches the wedding and event planning certificate course.
